BELLOWS BROS.

Shorthorns

FOREWORD

Thirty-eight years ago Bellows Bros. established the custom of holding annual auction sales. That custom has been continued to this day. Each year, a choice lot of bulls and females are selected from this noted herd and are sold by auction. Breeders from a wide territory are attracted by the excellence of the offering and the fine reputation Bellows Bros.' cattle have earned as "Good Doers" and impressive reproducers wherever they go.

In the year 1882 Mr. Frank Bellows started the herd that later became known as Bellows Bros. Herd of Shorthorns. Not many years later the ownership and management of the herd was taken over by George and Chas. D. Bellows, each of whom were assisted by their sons in later years. Upon the death of George Bellows, his interest in the firm was taken over by Chas. D. Bellows and his son Dale Bellows. The name Bellows Bros. being continued.

Frequently Dale Bellows has been called upon to judge Shorthorns at some of the larger shows and state fairs in the country. Under his and his father's management, the herd has made great progress during the past few years. Although in this herd was bred, fitted and shown an International grand champion bull and many other noted winners, yet it now has at its head the best bull that has ever been used in the herd and the herd generally is producing as good calves as ever in its history.

A study of this catalog is interesting because it shows the progress the herd has made. A number of the pedigrees show five and six generations of Bellows breeding and by studying these pedigrees, one can realize that one prominent bull has succeeded another down through the generations of cattle bred on this farm.

You will take no risk when you buy Shorthorns bred by Bellows Bros. They will reproduce the sort of cattle that you expect and want because they have been bred that way for many generations.

Will Johnson of The Shorthorn World.
